

Plenary speakers

Nick Enfield (University of Sydney, Australia)

"The Lao language in its social context"

"Pragmatic typology: Conversation in comparative perspective"

Giacomo Figueredo (Federal University of Ouro Preto, Brazil)

"Exploring the grammatical space of multilingual environments"

Randy LaPolla (Nanyang Technological University, Singapore)

"Describing Sino-Tibetan language/s: a functional perspective"

"Issues in functional language typology"

J R Martin (University of Sydney, Australia)

"Tagalog: a metafunctional profile"

"Functional language typology: a discourse semantic perspective"

Christian Matthiessen (The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hong Kong)

"Functional language typology: ideational meaning"

"Functional language typology: interpersonal meaning"

"Functional language typology: textual meaning"

Edward McDonald (Sun Yat-sen University, China)

"From grammatica to gelangma 葛郎玛 to wenfa 文法 to yufa 语法: the historical background to developing a functional grammar for Chinese"

Beatriz Quiroz (Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile)

"Experiential cryptotypes in Spanish: reasoning about process types"

Miriam Taverniers (Ghent University, Belgium)

"Functional grammars: towards a metalinguistic topology"

"Linguistic change: connecting grammatical metaphor and grammaticalization"

Kazuhiro Teruya (The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hong Kong)

"Japanese: a metafunctional profile"

Wang Pin (Shanghai Jiao Tong University, China)

"Exploring the metafunctional profile of the grammar of Classical Tibetan"