

Contents

Chapter 1	Introduction	1
	1.1 International Construction Market: Opportunities and Risks	2
	1.2 Project Delivery Process	3
	1.3 Chinese International Contractor	5
	1.4 Communication: Priorities and Problems	6
Chapter 2	Stylistic Features of English for International Construction Engineering	15
	2.1 General Description	16
	2.2 Lexical Features	20
	2.3 Syntactic Features	27
Chapter 3	Cross-Cultural Communication in International Construction Engineering	37
	3.1 Basic Concepts of Cross-Cultural Communication	38
	3.2 Culture Shock and Adjustment	41
	3.3 Cross-Cultural Communication Problems for Chinese Expatriates	42
Chapter 4	Parties to the Contract	51
	4.1 Employer	53
	4.2 Contractor	55
	4.3 Engineer	59
Chapter 5	Construction Contract	69
	5.1 Essentials	70
	5.2 Types and Forms	71
	5.3 FIDIC Conditions of Contract	78

Chapter 6	Tendering	87
6.1	Qualification of Contractors Before/During Tendering	88
6.2	Tendering Procedures and Tender Documents	96
6.3	Evaluation of Tenders and Contract Award	100
6.4	Marketing Activities in Pricing the Tender	101
Chapter 7	Insurance, Bond and Guarantee	109
7.1	Insurance	110
7.2	Bond and Guarantee	116
Chapter 8	Dispute Resolution, Arbitration and Claim	129
8.1	Conflict and Dispute	130
8.2	Resolution of Disputes	131
8.3	Arbitration	135
8.4	Claim	138
Chapter 9	Written Communication on the Construction Site	151
9.1	Project Correspondence	152
9.2	Meeting Minute (Decision Memorandum)	158
9.3	Project Report	163
Bibliography		171