

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Pre-Class Reading	1
0.1 Introducing the field of pragmatics	1
0.2 The emergence of the field of pragmatics	3
0.3 Pragmatics as a branch of linguistics	5
0.4 Pragmatics as a functional perspective	6
0.5 Integrative pragmatics: A new trend	7
In-Class Activities	8
Exercises	12
Recommended Readings	14
Resources for Students of Pragmatics	14

PART I From Philosophy of Language to Linguistic Pragmatics

17

Unit 1 Speech/Pragmatic Act Theory	19
Pre-Class Reading	19
1.1 Words and deeds	20
1.2 Locution, illocution and perlocution	21
1.3 (Illocutionary) Speech acts classified	22
1.4 Felicity conditions	24
1.5 Indirect speech acts	26
1.6 Extended speech acts	27
1.7 Pragmatic Act Theory	28
In-Class Activities	31
Exercises	35
Recommended Readings	37

Unit 2 (Neo-)Gricean Pragmatics	39
Pre-Class Reading.....	39
2.1 Implicature as non-natural meaning.....	40
2.2 Types of implicatures	42
2.3 Features of conversational implicatures.....	44
2.4 CP: The principle and maxims.....	46
2.5 Non-observance of the principle or maxims	49
2.6 Calculating conversational implicatures	51
2.7 Neo-Gricean Pragmatics	53
In-Class Activities.....	58
Exercises.....	62
Recommended Readings.....	66
<hr/>
PART II Aspects of Language in Use	67
Unit 3 (Non-)Deictic Reference	69
Pre-Class Reading.....	69
3.1 Types of reference.....	69
3.2 Reference as a choice.....	71
3.3 Properties of deixis	73
3.4 Types of deixis	75
In-Class Activities.....	78
Exercises.....	81
Recommended Readings.....	83
Unit 4 Address	84
Pre-Class Reading.....	84
4.1 Address: Forms and usages.....	84
4.2 Functions of address	86
4.3 Address Maxim	88
4.4 Generalization of address terms.....	88
In-Class Activities.....	89
Exercises.....	94
Recommended Readings.....	97

Unit 5 Pragmatic Presupposition	99
Pre-Class Reading	99
5.1 Entailment and presupposition	99
5.2 Pragmatic presupposition	100
5.3 Cancellation of presupposition	102
5.4 Projection problems with presupposition.....	103
5.5 Presupposition triggers.....	103
In-Class Activities	105
Exercises	109
Recommended Readings	112
Unit 6 Conversation Analysis	113
Pre-Class Reading	113
6.1 Turn-taking in conversation	113
6.2 Adjacency pairs	114
6.3 Pre-sequences.....	116
6.4 Conversational repairs	116
In-Class Activities	117
Exercises	120
Recommended Readings	123
Unit 7 Politeness in Conversation	124
Pre-Class Reading	124
7.1 Approaches to politeness.....	124
7.2 PP: The principle and its maxims	128
7.3 Clashes and trade-offs between the maxims	131
7.4 PP: A reformulation.....	132
In-Class Activities	134
Exercises	138
Recommended Readings	139
Unit 8 Performing FTAs in Conversation	141
Pre-Class Reading	141
8.1 The notion of face	141

8.2 Face-threatening acts (FTAs).....	142
8.3 Strategies for performing FTAs	144
8.4 Factors behind the choice of strategy.....	148
In-Class Activities.....	149
Exercises.....	152
Recommended Readings.....	154
Unit 9 Rapport Management Model	156
Pre-Class Reading.....	156
9.1 Background to the model.....	156
9.2 Bases of rapport	158
9.3 Strategies of rapport management	160
9.4 Factors influencing rapport management.....	161
9.5 A modified model.....	162
In-Class Activities.....	164
Exercises.....	168
Recommended Readings.....	172
<hr/>
PART III Constructing Unified Theories of Language Use.....	175
Unit 10 Relevance Theory.....	177
Pre-Class Reading.....	177
10.1 A new model of communication.....	177
10.2 Context in RT: A cognitive construct	182
10.3 Relevance: Cognitive effects and processing effort.....	184
10.4 Relevance: Two principles	187
10.5 Explicatures vs. implicatures.....	190
In-Class Activities.....	193
Exercises.....	196
Recommended Readings.....	197
Unit 11 Adaptation Theory.....	199
Pre-Class Reading.....	199

11.1 Adaptability, variability and negotiability	199
11.2 Language use as choice-making	201
11.3 Context: Yet a new account	203
11.4 Language use as a dynamic process	205
In-Class Activities.....	208
Exercises.....	210
Recommended Readings.....	213
Unit 12 Metapragmatics.....	214
Pre-Class Reading.....	214
12.1 Defining metapragmatics.....	214
12.2 Metapragmatic awareness	216
12.3 Indicators of metapragmatic awareness	218
12.4 Metadiscourse reconsidered	222
12.5 Discourse/Pragmatic markers.....	224
In-Class Activities.....	228
Exercises.....	230
Recommended Readings.....	233
<hr/>
PART IV Applied Pragmatics.....	235
Unit 13 Pragmatics and Translation.....	237
Pre-Class Reading.....	237
13.1 Translation as communication.....	237
13.2 Translating pragmatic meanings.....	239
13.3 Layers of pragmatic equivalence.....	241
13.4 Strategies of pragmatic translation.....	242
In-Class Activities.....	244
Exercises.....	246
Recommended Readings.....	248
Unit 14 Developing L2 Pragmatic Competence... 250
Pre-Class Reading.....	250
14.1 L2 pragmatic competence	250

14.2 Teaching L2 pragmatics	254
14.3 Pragmatic transfer and pragmatic failures.....	257
In-Class Activities.....	258
Exercises.....	261
Recommended Readings.....	263
Unit 15 Critical Pragmatics	265
Pre-Class Reading.....	265
15.1 Origin of critical pragmatics	265
15.2 “Critical” in critical pragmatics.....	268
15.3 Goal and orientations of CPA.....	269
15.4 Procedures of CPA.....	270
In-Class Activities.....	273
Exercises.....	274
Recommended Readings.....	276
References.....	277
Glossary	286
Data Transcription Notations.....	293