3 Read and decide true (T) or false (F). 读下文，判断正误。

Samuel Johnson does not want to go to university. He thinks he won't learn any practical skills there, so when he finishes the ninth grade, he will choose a vocational school. At the vocational school, he wants to learn useful knowledge and practical skills. There are many different types of classes for students to take depending on their interests. Some of Samuel's friends are already studying mechanics or computer programming. Some are learning cookery or accounting. A vocational school prepares young people for society by teaching them practical skills. Samuel is a hard-working student, so he is sure to find a good job in the future.
